LETTER TO THE EDITOR
Local students commended for efforts to collect items
for veterans

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the students in your school system for their contributions of comfort items, toiletries, and hand written Christmas Cards for our Veterans in the Tucson Veterans Hospital, and, also our homeless vets. I, also, want to thank a teacher in your system, Deb Mansager, who organized the events. This is the second year she and the students helped our veterans at Christmas time. I had the privilege, along with her husband Drew, of unloading 11 boxes of goods at the hospital, before Christmas.
Patriotism is alive and well in the San Manuel system. What a great group of students you have, along with their teachers. They took the time and effort to recognize those who devoted their lives to help make our country as great as it is. As the Knights of Columbus representative at the hospital, and for our “Serving Those Who Served” program, I am so proud of what you do.

Sincerely,
/s/ James Maino

New Pinal Rural Fire Rescue & Medical District accused of not answering medical assistance calls

‘True,’ say PRFR&M officials, but they note they are still organizing with full services coming in May

By James J. Hodl
San Manuel Miner

Is the new Pinal Rural Fire Rescue & Medical District (PRFR&M) not fulfilling its duties as a tax-supported firefighting and medical assistance operation?

Complaints from some citizens are that PRFR&M has not answered the call for up to a dozen requests for medical assistance since it officially came into being last September 26. Officers of the new district admit that it isn't, but caution that PRFR&M is still in its organizational stage and within a few months when all equipment is in place and personnel is fully trained the district will fulfill its promised duties.

PRFR&M is somewhat unique in Pinal County as it serves a primarily rural area rather than an incorporated municipality. Its boundaries are the San Carlos Apache Tribe and Dudleyville on the north, the Pinal County border on the east, San Manuel on the south, and Oracle and Mammoth on the west. The district covers more than 100 square miles and includes Aravaipa Canyon, with State Route 77 the main road through the district.

Creation of PRFR&M was authorized by the Pinal County Board of Supervisors when it accepted the district's impact statement in early August 2014 and district organizers submitted within one year signatures on a petition equal to the required 50% plus one of all homeowners with district boundaries that have are also valued at 50% plus $1 of all taxable property.

PRFR&M succeeded Pinal Rural Fire & Rescue, a nonprofit volunteer fire department funded by subscribers, donations and grants that had long served the area. It differed from for-profit firms like Rural/Metro that sell its services only through paid subscriptions.

Less than a month after PRFR&M came into being, complaints that the district was a no-show when called for medical assistance began.

The first 911 medical emergency to which the district didn't respond was on Oct. 19, 2015 involving a traffic accident on Palomita Road a few miles from the former fire station of Pinal

Rural Fire & Rescue since used by PRFR&M as its central depot.

"No one was available from PRFR&M, so an ambulance had to come all the way from San Manuel," said Cathy Gorman, who had earlier opposed creation of the new district and has since become its severest critic.

"Previously the adjacent districts would respond to areas that were not included in any district. So all of us in the Pinal Rural district are in greater danger," Gorman said at the time.

Other medical emergencies cited by Gorman to which PRFR&M didn't respond included a particularly nasty one on the morning of Jan. 19 involving a rollover crash in which the driver was ejected from his vehicle on Veterans Memorial Highway outside of San Manuel.

Pinal Supervisors approve lower developmental impact fees levied on new construction

But rules under which developers can apply for special fee consideration sent back for more work

By James J. Hodl
Copper Area News

Reductions in most developmental impact fees for new construction in Pinal County were approved by the Board of Supervisors at their Feb. 3 meeting. However the Board put off yet again changes in the county ordinance to allow alternative fee determination for special projects.

The new developmental impact fees are now scheduled to go into effect on May 9.

The reason given for splitting up what had been introduced at the Dec. 9 Board meeting as Resolution 120915-DF was that under Pinal County statutes changes in fees go into effect 90 days after approval while changes in statute language can become effective in 30 days. With contractors holding back requests for new construction permits until the lower fees go into effect, the Supervisors opted to approve the new fee schedule now while spending more time ironing out the wording of the alternate fee determination section of the ordinance, said Board Chairman Todd House.

The split was suggested by Himanshu Patel, director of the Pinal County Community Development Department, who reported new construction and developmental projects in the county grinding down to a crawl.

Under the new schedule, most impact fees would be lowered in Pinal County, while the fee structure for residential housing would be increased from two to four categories. Instead of separate fees for new homes under and over 1,500 sq. ft., the new categories would be under 1,000 sq. ft., 1,001 to 1,500 sq. ft., 1,501 to 2,100 sq. ft., and over 2,100 sq. ft.

In the four Pinal County Developmental districts, impact fees would rise only in the North Central District (which includes Apache Junction, San Tan Valley and Queen Creek), and not in all construction categories. For instance, in the less than 1,000 sq. ft. residential category, the fee would drop from $4,462 to $3,940 but rise in the 1,001/1,500 sq. ft. category from $4,462 to $6,532. Fees also would rise in the over 2,100-sq.-ft. residential, Institutional, Commercial and Other Services categories.

In the South Central, East (including Superior, Kearny, San Manuel, Oracle and Mammoth) and West districts would see all impact lowered from current levels, with non-residential construction fees in the West District dropping by more than $7,200. An additional fee was levied on construction in the extreme northern part of the East District (including Superior) where there are no arterial roads.

Developmental impact fees are levied to take care of safety, recreational open space (parks) and roads needs resulting from development of properties to account for increased population densities or commercial/industrial uses. The new schedule bases fees on the square footage of new structures, with larger properties accessed higher fees.

But Supervisor Anthony Smith argued that square footage may not be the only indicator of a development's ultimate use or occupancy. He cited retirement communities like SaddleBrooke, where new homes exceed 2,000 sq. ft. but are occupied by only two retired people who have most of their immediate needs served inside these communities and travel very little off premises. This would negate the need for major improvements outside the community such as widening roads, he said.

On the opposite end of the spectrum, Smith noted plans to build tiny houses (homes with square footage equivalent to efficiency apartments in urban areas) in Arizona City. A collection of homes of under 800 sq. ft. would result in a higher population density, thus having a bigger impact on the local infrastructure than larger senior housing, he noted.

As currently drafted, the alternative fee determination section of the proposed resolution defines those projects where developers can seek special consideration outside the approved impact fee structure as those differing greatly from developments in the same impact fee category. To get special fee consideration, developers must submit to the county manager an alternative development report explaining why the impact of the development would be substantially different from the norm, detailing what the actual costs and burdens would be to the county. The report can propose an alternate fee based on statistics compiled in the report. After reviewing the report, the county manager can make a determination as to the development fee to be charged. The county manager may require the applicant to pay an administrative fee to cover the actual costs of reviewing the special fee determination application.

Some developers at the meeting objected to having to bear the cost of having the county review their applications for special fees. However Cameron Carter of the Rose Law Group praised the Supervisors for allowing more flexibility in its impact fee structure and that making applicants bear the cost of reviewing their requests for special fees was right as it would help prevent frivolous appeals.

Other criticisms concerned the wording of the alternate fee determination section. Some found the wording to verbose and thus open to misinterpretation. Some changes shortening the text were proposed, along with a change that would enable developers to seek a special fee if only one of three criteria were met rather than all three.

The alternate fee determination section was sent back to committee for additional work. Board Chairman House said that wording that all parties can agree on could be ready for approval by the April Board meeting, thus enabling the revised impact fee ordinance and the already revised fee schedule to go into effect at the same time.

Ground broken at Apache Sky Casino

By John Hernandez
Copper Area News

What has long been a rumor and plans will soon become a reality.

On Thursday, Feb. 4, 2016, the San Carlos Apache tribe held a groundbreaking ceremony for their new Apache Sky Casino. The casino will be located off of Hwy. 77 between Central Arizona College and Dudleyville on reservation land. The casino has been a long time in coming and local communities and the San Carlos Apaches are looking forward to the economic benefits it brings to the area.

Harold Kenton, an Apache singer, spoke about his grandfather being from Aravaipa. He sang a "prayer song" and provided the blessing.

Gary Murrey, CEO for Apache Gold gave a brief update on the casino project. The plans call for a temporary casino that will have 375 slots and four gaming tables. Construction will start in three weeks and the temporary casino is expected to be in place in June. The construction will provide 100 jobs. The temporary casino will mean employment for 200 people and when the permanent casino project is completed there will be 400 jobs. It is expected to be the "anchor" for other businesses that will provide services for people that come to the area.

Terry Rambler, Chairman of the San Carlos Apache Tribal Council, spoke about "developing a community" and "working together with our neighbors to make things better for our children and grandchildren." He talked about partnering with Central Arizona College Aravaipa campus to create a gaming curriculum to train workers for the gaming and hotel industry.

"It is a great day for all of us," he added.

Supervisor Pete Rios was one of the guest speakers at the official groundbreaking of the Apache Sky Casino.

San Manuel’s Renteria claims Section IV wrestling championship

By Andrew Luberda
San Manuel Miner

San Manuel junior Franky Renteria won the Division IV Section IV Wrestling Championship in the 160lb weight class at the sectional tournament, which took place over the weekend at Willcox High School. Renteria, who will be the No. 2 seed at the state tournament, defeated Ryne Lewis of Pima 8 – 4 to claim the title. Freshman Julian Rodriguez will be joining Renteria at this weekend’s state tournament after pulling an upset in the sectional quarterfinals, advancing to the semis, and finishing fourth in the 120lb weight class. According to San Manuel head coach Daniel Najera, Rodriguez was the Miners’ third-string 120lb wrestler at the beginning of the season and is now only one of two freshmen to advance to the Division IV State Tournament in the 120lb division. “Our section returned over 20 state placers from last year’s state championships,” Najera told the Miner. “The hard work and dedication this offseason was the main factor for Renteria and Rodriguez. To compete in our section, you have to do more and it showed today. Four Miners fell short of qualifying to state, but our staff is beyond proud of their effort and grit.” The Division IV State Wrestling Tournament will take place Feb. 12-13 at the Prescott Valley Event Center, beginning at 11:30 a.m. on Friday.

Visit www.azpreps365.com for more information.

Franky Renteria wins Sectional Championship.

Julian Rodriguez (4th) will compete at the state finals for the first time.

PINAL RURAL FIRE RESCUE

Pinal County Sheriff’s deputies who answered the 911 and found the driver with lacerations to the head, back and hands, called Southwest Ambulance, who after treating him at the scene, took him to the SunLife Clinic helipad in San Manuel. The driver was later transported by helicopter to the University Medical Center in Tucson.

While it remains unverified as to whether PRFR&M waved off the 911 call saying it had no manpower as critics charged, the report filed by Sheriff’s deputies said that only 65 minutes elapsed between receiving the 911 and the injured driver – Michael Anthony Butler – being placed in an ambulance for transporting to San Manuel.

John Stanford, chief of the San Manuel Fire Department, confirms that his department has “answered quite a few calls” of medical emergencies within the PRFR&M territory. While he had no specific number for such calls, he remembers three wrecks other than the Jan. 19 rollover, including one involving a Jeep in which a young man died.

Marty Ponce, interim chief of the Mammoth Volunteer Fire Department, likewise reported his department handling in PRFR&M territory two medical assists involving car accidents and one from a citizen complaining about a possible gas leak.

“When people call PRFR&M, they are told they have no manpower and are referred to us. We thus pay our volunteers to go on calls outside our district,” Ponce said.

“People are starting to complain. PRFR&M needs to step up to the plate,” said Olivia Morales, board member of the Dudleyville Fire Department.

“We have only a limited budget so its costs us when we cover for other districts,” she added.

“We can’t continue to run into PRFR&M territory covering their emergencies using our tax money,” San Manuel’s Stanford said. “I don’t mind helping out but local residents are starting to ask me if we can bill them for covering for them.”

PRFR&M Chief Rod Plast countered that the new district is still being organized and thus is unable to handle medical assistance calls at present. The district, however, has still handled the fire calls it has received since September.

“We are still setting up the district according to the requirements of Pinal County and the State of Arizona,” Plast said. “We are still acquiring necessary equipment and a training volunteers in firefighting and paramedic skills.”

A hindrance at this early stage of organization is money, added Steve Turcotte, a member of the PRFR&M board and chairman of the district’s organizing committee.

Although PRFR&M was created as a special taxing district, it will not receive any revenues from property taxes until October 2016. Likewise it cannot tap into its share of funds from the Arizona Fire District Assistance Tax until July.

For now, PRFR&M are tapping into available grant money to acquire additional equipment, including tanker trucks for getting water to areas without fire hydrants, devices for pumping water directly out of streams through fire hoses, and special fire engines designed for the territory’s steep and varied terrain. Also being acquired are EMT vehicles equipped with first aid equipment, oxygen tanks and an EKG device to enable paramedic firefighters to provide on-site medical care possible.

“Chief Plast has done a great job in writing the grant proposals as we have received the funds for 80% of the grants for which we applied,” said Turcotte, who also is a retired Rear Admiral of the U.S. Navy and owner of a local ranch.

Turcotte noted that two volunteer firefighter/paramedics will have completed their training by late February and another will be fully trained by late March. This will solve some manpower issues.

If organizational momentum continues at the current rate, PRFR&M will likely notify the Pinal County Sheriff’s Office that it will be able to take on all firefighting and medical assistance services by May 1, Turcotte predicted.

But shouldn’t PRFR&M have provided all and full promised services from Day One?

“There is no legal requirement for a newly organized fire district to be fully operational from the beginning,” said John Flynn, executive director of the Arizona Fire District Association. “Fire districts take time to organize, so citizens should give them time to get things right and provide quick and effective services.”

Pinal County Supervisor Todd House, who also served on the board of the Superstition Fire & Medical District near Apache Junction and Gold Canyon, agreed.

“PRFR&M is creating a new firefighting operation in territory previously served only by a tiny volunteer organization. They are adding new services not offered by the earlier entity. They should have the time needed to put the package together,” House said.

He added that the situation with PRFR&M differed from those of two failed efforts to create a new fire district comprising all or part

They're Coming for Your Right to Vote

The geniuses at our legislature are at it again. It's bad enough that less than 40% of eligible voters actually voted in the 2014 Arizona general election but now some legislators want to make it harder for some to get their vote in the ballot box. House Bill 2023 sponsored by Republicans was passed in the House by a 34-23 vote. It now goes to the Senate.

The bill blocks voter outreach groups from collecting and dropping off early voting ballots. This is another roadblock that will make it harder for the poor, minorities, and disabled especially those living in rural areas to vote. Arizona is already well known for disenfranchising eligible voters. To add another law making it harder for Americans to cast their vote is wrong.

Studies have shown that the most important socioeconomic factor affecting voter turnout is education. The more education a voter has, the more likely they are to vote. This is probably another reason Arizona ranks at the bottom in the United States for spending on education.

Not only does the bill restrict voting rights but it makes it a felony for anyone other than a family member, roommate, care giver, postal worker or candidate to collect early ballots from another person. Putting someone in prison for

of the unincorporated city of San Tan Valley.

“San Tan Valley already has full fire protection and medical assistance services from Rural/Metro, a for-profit subscription provider. Any local district would have to be able to fully supplant the fire protection the area already gets so there is no interruption in services,” House said.

As for complaints that other districts covering PRFR&M medical assistance calls, minutes of the August 2014 Pinal County Board of Supervisors meeting included testimony of turf battles between the municipal districts and Pinal Rural Fire & Rescue. When municipal firefighters came out of their districts to fight a fire, they sometimes clashed with the former volunteer group's chief Bud Paine, who saw such encroachment as hurting his ability to sell $100 a year subscriptions to rural residents.

PRFR&M is offering Mutual Aid Agreements to surrounding municipal fire districts.

PRFR&M's Turcotte noted that once the district has its basic operation in place and has a steady flow of revenue, it will gradually build to encompass its other plans. These include supplementing volunteer firefighters with part-time personnel and later some full-time employees. It also wants to build a second fire station on the other side of Route 77 from its current station north of Mammoth to one closer to Aravaipa Canyon.

Under a schedule proposed last fall, those plans should be completed by July 2017.

Hike, bike, run, learn at the 2016 Legends of Superior Trail Fest

Have you ever thought about taking a multi day-week backpacking adventure? Are you intrigued about the Arizona Trail but you don't know where to start to even make those first few steps hiking on the trail? This Saturday, Feb. 13, the Legends of Superior Trails Fest will feature recent Yo-Yo hikers Rass and Kathy Vaughn who will be leading a discussion about their adventure and then will lead a two hour trail run on the Arizona Trail later in the afternoon. They will share their experience, their motivation and some humor about their recent adventure as they call them. The couple are the first yo-yo hikers on the Arizona Trail which means they have completed hiking both north and south bound on the Arizona Trail.

The event begins at 10 a.m. in front of the Superior Chamber of Commerce building at 165 Main St. in downtown Superior. All lectures will be hosted at the Superior Chamber of Commerce. The morning starts out with a series of informative talks including a history discussion on Pinal City and the archeology of the area, an update on the future plans of the LOST trail system and the always popular geology talk with ASU professor Steve Semkin. This year a new talk has been added by Rass and Kathy Vaughn who are the first Yo-Yo hikers on the Arizona Trail. They will share their adventures, what to expect for those considering a hike and also share about their personal journey on the trail. This is a can't miss presentation.

From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. there will be an outdoor expo featuring booths by the Arizona Game and Fish Department, Cobre Valley Regional Medical Center and other outdoor activities with informational booths and there will be a hamburger and chile sale to benefit the Legends of Superior Trails Inc.

In the afternoon a series of guided hikes and walks will depart from Main St. to the trail heads. Hikes vary in length and intensity. There will be a hike to the Cross on Apache Leap, a hike to the Tunnel on the Canyon Segment of the LOST the geology walk and this year there are several activities on the Arizona Trail including a slow hike, a fast hike, a trail run and a mountain bike ride. Pre-registration for the hikes, walks and bike rides are requested to ensure enough guides are available you can register online at www.lostinsuperioraz.org.
